ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Many of the émigrés, their families and friends have given me invaluable insights into the subject: These include Merry Kerr Woodeson (Jack Bilbo's daughter), Hans Feibusch (†), Jerome Abbo (Jussuf Abbo's son) and his wife, John Loyd (†) (curator of Peter Peri's papers and works), Professor Norbert Lynton (former pupil of the Arthur Segal Painting School), William Kaczynski (collector of internment mail), Dr Klaus E. Hinrichsen (†) (former interned art historian), Diana Uhlman (†) and her daughter Caroline Compton (Fred Uhlman's widow and daughter), Klaus Friedeberger, Milein Cosman and Dr Ines Schlenker (for Else Meidner and Marie-Louise von Motesiczky). I owe a profound debt of gratitude to all of them.

I would also like to thank the staff of museums and libraries, above all the University Library of Cambridge, the British Library, the Imperial War Museum (all in London), the Exilarchiv (Frankfurt), the Dokumentationsarchiv des österreichischen Widerstandes (Vienna), for Ludwig Meidner the Stadtarchiv Darmstadt (Dr. Peter Engels) and for John Heartfield and Heinz Wörner the Archiv der Akademie der Künste (Berlin).

Most of the research carried out for this book was undertaken while doing a PhD at the Department of History of Art, University of Cambridge (a different version of this book was submitted as a PhD thesis to the University of Cambridge). Therefore, I thank Dr John Gage, who accompanied my early academic steps in Cambridge, and Professor Jean Michel Massing, my supervisor at the University of Cambridge, for continued support and guidance. I am also grateful to Professor Hamish Ritchie (Sheffield) and Dr. Shulamith Behr (Courtauld Institute, London), who both examined the PhD thesis, Professor Dr. Erich Kleinschmidt (Universität zu Köln), my German Doktorvater who, nevertheless, read the manuscript of this book, PD Dr. Martin Papenbrock (Institut für Kunstgeschichte, Universität Karlsruhe), who recommended the manuscript to the editor of the series of the Guernica-Gesellschaft, and Professor Dr. Jutta Held (Karlsruhe), who accepted it for the series of the Guernica-Gesellschaft. I greatly appreciate especially the comments of Papenbrock and Held on the drafts of this book. For the final stages of finishing the book, I am grateful to all the staff at the VDG publishing-house (in particular Dr. Bettina Preiß) and my colleagues at the University of Birmingham.

Finally, I owe to Markus, Cyril and Charlotte more than can be stated here.
